FORMER ISSUES OF THE CATALOGUE OF GRADUATES

From 1842 to 1873 catalogues containing the names of graduates were issued by the College at intervals of three years. Beginning in 1857 and continuing through all subsequent publications the catalogues have included lists of teachers and administrative officers. From 1878 to 1905 catalogues appeared at intervals of approximately five years, the dates of publication being 1878, 1883, 1889, 1895, 1900, and 1905. The Seventy-fifth Anniversary Catalogue, printed in 1909, took the place of the issue that would regularly have appeared in 1910. The next Quinquennial appeared in 1916. The Semi-Centennial Register, issued in 1883, and the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Catalogue of 1908, contained biographical sketches. The financial distress of the College during the years from 1920 to 1923 caused the omission of the catalogue that should have been printed in 1920 or 1921; the next catalogue appeared in 1926, after an interval of ten years, and the 1936 edition, was, therefore, the second decennial issue of the Catalogue of Graduates.

The original plans made for the celebration of the College Centennial included the publication in 1933 of a One-Hundredth Anniversary Catalogue, to contain biographical sketches of both graduates and former students, but the lack of funds due to the financial depression necessitated the omission not only of this project but of nearly all of the special features that had been planned for that occasion.

A Geographical Index of Living Graduates appeared for the first time in the catalogue of 1900, and has been repeated in the issues of 1905, 1916, 1926, and 1936, and forms a section of this publication.

In 1905 a section was added containing a short summary of the most important events in the history of the College, presented in chronological order. This Historical Summary was considerably enlarged in the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Catalogue in 1908. It appeared again in the Quinquennial of 1916, and was brought down to date in the edition of 1926. The Historical Summary was omitted from the 1936 Catalogue and in its place there is offered historical information of great interest regarding Oberlin's buildings; this material does not appear in the 1948 Catalogue.

The catalogues of 1908 and 1916 contained summaries of endowments, scholarships, and plant assets. These summaries, revised and corrected, were again presented in the catalogue of 1926 and 1936; they are not included in this catalogue.

The lists of recipients of advanced degrees, both earned and honorary, that appeared for the first time in the Quinquennial Catalogue of 1916, proved to be of much value for reference purposes. They were repeated in the catalogues of 1926 and 1936 and are again included in this catalogue.

THE 1948 CATALOGUE OF GRADUATES

The first request for reports from graduates for use in the 1948 Catalogue was issued under date of September 1, 1947. By January 1, 1948, responses had been received from approximately 8,000 graduates. Efforts were continued to secure information from the remaining 5,000 graduates. The report blanks contained the following query: "Do you wish to receive a copy of the 1948 Catalogue of Graduates (Price: $1.00)?" Approximately 6,000 graduates replied asking for copies of the Catalogue, and it is to them that these Catalogues are to be mailed.

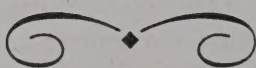

In the effort to make the Catalogue of the greatest possible value, the names of men and women graduates were arranged in one alphabetical list in each class, the women being entered under married names. This rearrangement of names of the women made necessary the insertion of a "Finding List for Married Women," which appeared in the 1926 Catalogue for the first time. The printing of this separate finding list for married women did not prove as satisfactory as had been hoped. In the 1936 catalogue the Alphabetical Index included the maiden names and the married names of women in adequate fashion; this style is followed in the present edition.

In the case of a married woman, the name in parenthesis is the woman's name at the time of the bestowal of the degree. In most cases this will, of course, be the woman's maiden name.

In the case of graduates whose names are listed in more than one group or department, the complete entry of name, degrees, occupation, and address is given in the list of first graduation, and cross references are made in the other lists.

The asterisk (*) has been used throughout the Catalogue to indicate the decease of persons thus marked.

Grateful recognition is hereby given to the Offices of the College Secretary and of the Alumni Records for their cooperation in connection with the assembling of reports from graduates and of information concerning former members of the Teaching and Administrative Staff.

Miscellaneous Statistics

1. Summary of Students Who Have Attended Oberlin College from December 3, 1833, to June 30, 1948

In 1883, at the end of fifty years, the number of students who had been enrolled was reported to be 20,000. President Fairchild's statement in his Annual Report of the Trustees, dated January 23, 1884, is the authority for this number.

In 1908, at the time of the publication of the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Catalogue, the number of students who had been in attendance was 35,682. The number of graduates in the same period was 4,694, representing 13.1 per cent of the total enrollment. In 1933, at the end of the first one hundred years of Oberlin's history, the number of students who had been enrolled had increased to 52,596, and the number of graduates to 11,237, representing 21.3 per cent of the total attendance.

On June 30, 1948, the closing date used in the compilation of these statistics, the number of students who had been enrolled was 63,745, and of this number 16,365 were graduates, 25.6 per cent of the total attendance. The details for the five-year periods are shown in the table below. From 1908 through 1943, the percentages of graduates show a continuous increase. The decrease in the period 1943-1948 is due to the large numbers of men enrolled in the Navy V-12 Unit.

2. The Attendance of Students 1833-1948

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Note A. The College Department was known by this name until the year 1875; from 1875 to 1893 it was known as the Department of Philosophy and the Arts; from 1893 to 1906 it was called "the College"; since 1906 it has been called the College of Arts and Sciences.

Note B. The School of Theology has appeared under the names Theological Seminary, Department of Theology, and Theological Department; in 1916 the name became "The Graduate School of Theology."

Note C. The Conservatory of Music. Names of students in this department appear for the first time in the general catalogue in 1869.

Note D. Preparatory Department. The name of this department was changed in 1892 to "the Academy." For a number of years the students in the "Scientific Course" were included in the totals of the Preparatory Department. It was discontinued in June, 1916.

Note E. Drawing and Painting. The first separate classification of students in this department was in 1885. From 1885 to 1896 the names appeared under the heading "School of Art"; from 1896 to 1911 the department was called the Department of Drawing and Painting. The separate listing of students in drawing and painting ended in 1911.

Note F. Summer Session. For many years a Summer School was conducted by members of the faculty under private management, but after 1899 the Summer School has been operated by the College. In 1906 its name was changed to "Summer Session" and in 1942 to "Summer Term." The numbers shown in the table are net figures and include the students enrolled in the summer school only. Since 1943 the figures for each department include the enrollment of students for all terms of each academic year. The total registration in the Summer School during these years has varied from eighty to two hundred and ten. During the period from 1835 to 1877, when the long vacation occurred in the winter, a Winter School, corresponding to the present Summer School, was conducted yearly by members of the faculty under private management. The students in these winter schools were not included in the totals for these years.

Note G. Ladies' Course. At first all women students were classed in the "Female Department." In 1836 the name was changed to "Ladies' Course," and all women not otherwise classed were grouped under this head. As early as 1833 there were women enrolled in the Preparatory Department. Since 1837 women have been enrolled in the college classes. From 1869 to 1874 the name was "Ladies' Department." In 1875 the "Literary Course" was organized as a part of the Department of Philosophy and the Arts, and the Ladies' Course was dropped as a separate department.

Note H. Teachers' Course. This course appeared as a separate department in the catalogues from 1846 to 1853. From 1854 to 1864 it was treated as a part of the Preparatory Department, and the schedules of students were arranged by the Principal. In 1864 it was continued as a separate department under the name "Scientific Course," the Principal of the Preparatory Department continuing his oversight of the schedules of students.

OBERLIN COLLEGE

Note I. Scientific Course. This course appeared as a separate department from 1864 to 1874. There were three graduates during the years 1873-75. In 1875 it became a part of the Department of Philosophy and the Arts. During the years 1896-1900 there were twenty-seven graduates of the Scientific Course in the College Department.

Note J. Physical Education. From 1894 to 1900 a small number of students were catalogued separately under the name "Normal Course in Physical Training for Women." In 1900 the course was enlarged, with advanced requirements for admission, and since that time the students have been counted in the totals of the College Department. From 1900 to 1904 it was a course for women only. After 1904, it has been for both men and women. Since 1916 the course has been known as "The Teachers' Course in Physical Education," and later it was described as a "Teacher's Major." The total number of certificates in Physical Education issued was 716 (207 men and 509 women). In most cases the certificates were granted in connection with the bestowal of the degree of Bachelor of Arts. However, during the period from 1894 to 1921 there were 47 persons receiving the Physical Education certificate who were not holders of a bachelor's degree or who had earned that degree previously to enrollment in Oberlin. The names of these persons are listed separately with their classes.

Note K. Duplications. Prior to 1870 there were no duplicates in the annual catalogues, the student being counted in that department in which he elected the greater portion of his work. Soon after the opening of the Conservatory of Music as a separate department, it was found difficult to determine the exact classification of students, and for twenty years (from 1871 to 1890) the practice was followed of listing a student's name in each department in which he studied. During this period of twenty years a large deduction is therefore necessary in order to show the exact number of students enrolled. This yearly deduction is given in a separate column, in parenthesis. The duplications were almost entirely the cases of students who combined work in the Conservatory with either preparatory or collegiate studies. Since 1891 the former practice has been resumed, and the student's name has been catalogued in the department in which he has taken the greater portion of his work, the duplication of names being thus avoided.

Note L. In 1835 there were also enrolled eighty additional students in the Winter School.

Note M. In 1836 eighty preparatory students were transferred to Elyria High School, and the auxiliary schools at Austinburg, Sheffield, and Abbeyville.

Note N. In 1837 the Institute was too poor to publish a catalogue.

Note O. The catalogues of the years 1840-43 contained this note: "In accordance with the general usage of Academies, the catalogue of the Preparatory Departments is a report of the past year. In all other Departments, the Catalogue exhibits the present state of the Institution."

Note P. A new plan to increase the endowment assets by means of scholarships resulted in the doubling of the number of students in a single year; but the ultimate financial results were unsatisfactory and steps were soon taken to terminate the plan. It required many years to do this. The increased enrollment of students was maintained.

Note Q. 1861. The College total, 109, included 46 who were absent in the Army.

Note R. 1862. The College total, 147, included 31 who were absent in the Army.

Note S. 1877. The long vacation was changed to the summer instead of the winter.

OBERLIN COLLEGE

Note T. Since 1891 the catalogue summaries have carefully excluded duplicates, and the enrollment has represented the attendance of the academic year, from September to June. Since 1899 the totals have included such Summer Session students as have not been enrolled in any other departments during the year.

Prior to 1891 the enrollment figures were computed by the calendar year, from January to December, rather than by the present method, where the period covered includes only the academic year, from July to June. In order to make just comparisons with preceding years, the Secretary has counted the enrollment figures by both the old method and the new, and has found that either the former figure should be decreased by 20.4 per cent, or the latter figure should be increased 25.6 per cent.

Note U. In explanation of the large loss of 254 students in passing from the year 1910-1911 to the year 1911-1912, it should be noted that the larger part of the loss is in the Conservatory and Academy Departments. Beginning in 1911, children in the public schools, who happened to be carrying one study in the Conservatory or in the Department of Drawing and Painting, were excluded from the enrollment totals. This change of method of counting explains the loss of 42 names in the Conservatory totals and seven names in the totals in Drawing and Painting. The main reason for the remainder of the shrinkage in the Conservatory totals was undoubtedly the rigid enforcement of the new standards for entrance, with the exclusion of all students not of college rank. A net loss of 68 students in the Academy Department is probably accounted for in large part by the increase in the Academy term bill from $50 to $75 a year. The net loss of only six students in the College of Arts and Sciences is a remarkable showing when it is remembered that the college term bills were increased from $75 to $100 a year.

Note V. Beginning in 1912-13 the separate classification of students in the Department of Drawing and Painting was discontinued. Since 1912 those students in Drawing and Painting who are of college rank and have met college entrance requirements have been included in the totals of the College of Arts and Sciences. Since the discontinuance of the Academy in 1916 students of less than College rank have not been admitted to the special courses in Drawing and Painting.

Note W. For a few years, from 1914 to 1921, Slavic students were catalogued separately, but they are here included in the totals of the School of Theology.

Note X. During the war the Government selected Oberlin College as the location of one of the V-12 Units of the United States Navy. This Unit was on the campus for eight terms from July 1943 to March 1946. In this period 1,845 persons were enrolled as members of the unit. The figures given represent the year by year enrollment. During these three years the total enrollment in the College of Arts and Sciences includes, therefore, the civilian students plus the V-12 members.

The Teaching and Administrative Staff

A. Register of All Members of the Teaching and Administrative Staff—1833-1948

The information furnished in the following pages is supposed to be accurate as to names, official connection with Oberlin College, and collegiate degrees to date of June 30, 1948, in the cases of those still living, addresses are given.

Names are listed as they appeared on the College records at the time. A woman who married after leaving the service of Oberlin College is listed only once. A woman who married while employed by the College is entered under her married name, with a reference entry under the maiden name.

Periods of service shown for administrative assistants represent in general the official recorded appointments. In some cases there was service prior to the dates here entered, usually on a part-time basis.

So far as information is available, the addresses are correct as of date of June 30, 1948.

B. Trustees, Members of Executive and Prudential Committees

The word "died" following a name indicates death while in the service of the College.

1. Trustees

The number of trustees authorized by the Charter was twelve. This number was increased to eighteen in 1874. During all the years prior to 1878 the trustees served without specified length of tenure.

In 1878 the Board of Trustees voted to increase its number to twenty-four, divided into six classes of four persons in each class, elected to serve for six years. Four of the eight additional members were elected in 1878 and the full roster was reached in 1880.

The plan for alumni participation in the election of trustees, one trustee in each class of four, was authorized in 1878. From 1879 to 1892 alumni representatives on the Board, selected by the graduates, were elected by vote of the Board of Trustees. Since 1892 the graduates have made direct election.

2. Members of the Executive Committee

In November, 1928, a by-law was adopted by the Board of Trustees creating an Executive Committee, to consist of the President and four trustees. The powers and duties of this committee are defined as follows: "Subject to the directions of the Board of Trustees, the Executive Committee shall have the powers of the Board of Trustees in the intervals between the meetings of the Board. Any expenditures not previously authorized by the Trustees can be made only on the approval of the Executive Committee. Appointments of Professors or Instructors which can not well await a meeting of the Board may be made by the Executive Committee."

3. Members of the Prudential Committee

The Prudential Committee has large responsibility for the administration of the College, and particularly with the care and maintenance of the College buildings and property. To it are assigned all matters not specifically entrusted to the general officers or the faculty or retained by the Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee. To its membership there have been appointed by the trustees those members of the Board who are residents of Oberlin, major administrative officers, and members of the faculty. Originally a committee of five persons, all of whom were trustees and residents of Oberlin, it has in the course of years been enlarged to its present number of thirteen.

In the codification of by-laws of Oberlin College, adopted in November, 1904, the powers and duties of the Prudential Committee were defined as follows: "A Prudential Committee shall be chosen by the Trustees at each annual meeting ..... to whom shall be entrusted the management of the concerns of the Board of Trustees according to the direction of the Board in the intervals when the Board is not in session." "Any expenditure not previously authorized by the Trustees can be made only on the approval of the Prudential Committee." "In all affairs of minor importance the action of the Prudential Committee, subject to the adoption of such action by the Trustees at their meetings, shall be final; but on any matters of importance which admit of delay, final action shall be reserved and presented to the Trustees with their recommendation."

In 1928 some of the powers previously exercised by the Prudential Committee were transferred by the Trustees to the Executive Committee. The new definition of the work of the Prudential Committee, adopted in 1928, is as follows: "The Prudential Committee shall administer the affairs of the College which are not especially entrusted to the President, Secretary, Treasurer, Faculty, or other committees of the Trustees."

A. Graduates of the College of Arts and Sciences

The "College Department" was known by this name until the year 1875; from 1875 to 1893 it was known as "The Department of Philosophy and the Arts;" from 1893 to 1906 it was called "The College;" since 1906 it has been called "The College of Arts and Sciences."

Recipients of first Degrees and Diplomas, including Bachelors of Arts, Bachelors of Philosophy, Bachelors of Science, Bachelors of Letters, and graduates of the Literary Course.

For many years, from 1837 to 1873, the degree of Bachelor of Arts (A.B.) was the only degree issued by the College. The course of study that led to the degree, known as the "Classical Course," contained a prescribed amount of both Latin and Greek.

From 1864 to 1900 there was a "Scientific Course," appearing in the catalogue either as a separate department or as a part of the department of Philosophy and the Arts. Thirty-one students received the degree of Bachelor of Science (S.B.),—one in 1873, one in 1874, one in 1875, and twenty-eight in the six years from 1895 to 1900 inclusive.

The first graduates of the "Philosophical Course" received the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy (Ph.B.) in 1887. In the Philosophical Course modern languages were substituted for the classics. This course was organized in 1886 and it continued as a separate course until 1900.

Beginning with the graduates of the class of 1901, the distinction between degrees was abandoned and since that time the degree of A.B. has been the only bachelor's degree conferred by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Graduates who completed the work of the course known from 1836 to 1874 as "The Ladies' Course" and from 1875 to 1894 as "The Literary Course," received diplomas at graduation. All such graduates are designated in this catalogue by the abbreviation "Lit." When the Literary Course was terminated in 1894 the Board of Trustees gave authority to the college officers to issue the degree of Bachelor of Letters (L.B.) to any holder of a diploma of the former Literary Course who might apply for it, upon payment of the usual diploma fee; in cases where this exchange has been made the entry appears as follows: "Lit. (L.B.)."

Recipients of Certificates Showing the Completion of the Teachers' Course in Physical Education.

Prior to 1904 the name of this course was "The Normal Course in Physical Training for Women," and from 1894 to 1900 a small number of students were catalogued separately under this heading in the college catalogue. In 1900 the course was enlarged, with higher admission requirements, and since 1900 the students have been counted in the totals of the College Department. Prior to 1904 it was a course for women only; in 1904 the name was changed to "The Teachers' Course in Physical Training," and the work of the course was taken by both men and women. Since 1916 the course has been known as "The Teachers' Course in Physical Education," and later it was described as a "Teacher's Major."

The total number of certificates in Physical Education issued was 716 (207 men and 509 women). In most cases the certificates were granted in connection with the bestowal of the degree of Bachelor of Arts. However, during the period from 1894 to 1921 there were 47 persons receiving the Physical Education certificate who were not holders of a bachelor's degree or who had earned that degree previously to enrolment in Oberlin. The names of these persons are listed separately with their classes.

Honorary War Members

By vote of the Board of Trustees, 101 men whose college work was interrupted by military service were, by joint action of the College and the Class itself, given Honorary War Membership; of this number 57 men returned to Oberlin to complete the work for the degree. The names of the other 44 men are listed separately with their classes of 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, and 1921 in the College of Arts and Sciences and of the class of 1919 in the Conservatory of Music. The designation used in indicating Honorary War Membership is (HWM).

B. Graduates of the Graduate School of Theology

In the early years the Theological Department was called "The Theological Seminary," but in 1916 on recommendation of the faculty of the Theological Seminary the name was changed to "The Graduate School of Theology."

Prior to 1875 no degree was conferred upon the completion of work in this department. Beginning with the class of 1875, the degree of Bachelor of Divinity (D.B.) was generally, although not invariably, conferred upon the graduates of the regular course. Since 1898, except in rare cases of exceptionally high scholarship, the degree of Bachelor of Divinity has been conferred only upon students whose preparation for the work included a full collegiate course.

In 1887 the "English Course" was established "in view of the present urgent need of more ministers and of the fact that many young men now in secular business would be willing to give their lives to the preaching of the Gospel, but cannot pursue a course of preparation extending over ten years; it is designed for mature young men who, though possessing perhaps but a common English education, have acquired, in practical business, familiarity with affairs and acquaintance with men; it is believed that by two years of judiciously applied study, men of this class can acquire such a knowledge of the English Bible, of systematic theology, and of other fundamental branches as will qualify them for great usefulness in many fields." During the years from 1889 to 1900 there were sixty-eight graduates of the English Course. On recommendation of the Theological Faculty, the Board of Trustees voted in 1898 to discontinue the course, and the last graduations from this course occurred in 1900.

The care of the Slavic Department, organized in 1885 and discontinued in 1921, was committed to the faculty of the Graduate School of Theology. During its existence there were twenty-seven graduates. The names of these graduates will be found on page 253.

C. Graduates of the Conservatory of Music

Prior to 1903 the graduates of the Conservatory of Music received diplomas at graduation. In 1903 the Board of Trustees authorized the bestowal of the degree of Bachelor of Music (Mus.B.) and in 1922 the degree of Bachelor of School Music (Sch.Mus.B.); in 1942 the Trustees voted to withdraw the Bachelor of School Music degree and to replace it by the degree of Bachelor of Music Education (Mus.Ed.B.). All graduates since 1906 have received one of these degrees.

A considerable number of the graduates of the Conservatory prior to 1903 have been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Music to replace their diplomas of graduation; in each case the action has been taken by vote of the Faculty and Board of Trustees, after the presentation of satisfactory evidence that the recipients have more than met the increased literary requirements governing the bestowal of the degree; in such cases the degree entry is as follows: "Gr.Cons.(Mus.B.)."

D. Recipients of Masters' Degrees, both in Course and for Prescribed Work, including Masters of Arts, Masters of Science, Masters of Music, Masters of School Music, Masters of Music Education, and Masters of Sacred Theology.

Prior to 1898 the College followed the practice of the other colleges and universities in conferring the degree of Master of Arts (A.M.) upon those graduates who subsequently pursued three years of professional study. For many years the following entry appeared in the college catalogue: "The degree of Master of Arts is conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three or more years' standing who has been engaged in literary or scientific pursuits, and has sustained a good moral character." This practice was terminated in 1898 by vote of the Board of Trustees upon recommendation of the Faculty. Since that time a year of resident graduate study has been required for the degree of Master of Arts, with the requirement that the course of study must receive the preliminary approval of the Committee on Graduate Study and Degrees, and that the work done for the degree shall be of high quality.

The degree of Master of Science (S.M.) has been bestowed twice,—once in 1876 and again in 1895. The other degrees listed in this section are Masters of Art.

In 1909 official action was taken approving a program of work in the Graduate School of Theology leading to the A.M. degree. The first degrees granted under this plan were awarded in June 1909. Holders of Masters of Arts degrees for work done in the two departments are listed in separate sections.

Students in the Graduate School of Theology who complete with high credit a fourth year of theological study are eligible to receive the advanced degree of Master of Sacred Theology (S.T.M.), under an arrangement approved in 1913.

The sanction of the Faculty and of the Trustees for the degree of Master of Music (Mus.M.) as a regular graduate degree in course was given in 1926. Prior to that time the degree was granted in a special way to three persons, one in 1919, one in 1922, and one in 1924. Similarly the degree of Master of School Music (SCH.MUS.M.) was authorized in 1928, but was replaced in 1942 by the degree of Master of Music Education (MUS.ED.M.).

Class of 1846

The records of Masters' degrees issued in 1846 have been lost. That some such degrees were issued in 1846 may be inferred from the vote of the Board of Trustees authorizing the conferring of the second degree of the arts "to those graduates who have pursued their three years of professional study and who may apply for the same." A similar vote was passed in the year 1847. The number of A.M. degrees granted immediately before and immediately after the years 1846 and 1847 would also indicate the probability that there were issued by the College during these years some A.M. degrees. A similar statement may be made for the year 1849.

Geographical Index of Living Graduates

The information in this index is supposed to be correct as of date of July 1, 1948. In general, the index is based upon residence address.

The figures indicate the year of graduation. The entry of year figures without any preceding letter indicates graduation from the College of Arts and Sciences (pages 3-181). The following letters appearing before the figures indicate the department (or course) from which the person graduated:

t.—Graduate School of Theology (pages 182-199).

c.—Conservatory of Music (pages 200-226).

p.e.—Teachers' Course in Physical Education in the College of Arts and Sciences (pages 35-88).

m.—Masters' degrees, earned (pages 227-245). The following letters are used to indicate the department in which the degree was earned: "m" for the College of Arts and Sciences, "t.m." or "s.t.m." for the Graduate School of Theology, and "c.m." for the Conservatory of Music.

h.—Honorary (pages 246-252).

h.w.m.—Honorary War Member.

The figures in the index refer to first graduation. Complete information as to degrees, other graduations, and address of the person concerned can be secured by reference to the complete entry to be found in Part III of this book (pages 3-253).

The Index is arranged in two parts: The United States (pages 257-319) (based upon the 1947 United States Postal Guide) and Foreign Countries (pages 320-323). The Foreign Countries are arranged by continents in the following order:

North America (other than the United States), South America, Europe, Africa, Asia, Oceania.

Alphabetical Index of All Graduates

Alphabetical Index of All Graduates

The information in this Index is supposed to be correct as of date of July 1, 1948.

The figures indicate the year of graduation. The entry of year-figures without any preceding letter indicates graduation from the College of Arts and Sciences (pages 3-181). The following letters, appearing before the figures, indicate the department (or course) from which the person graduated:

t.—Graduate School of Theology (pages 182-199).

c.—Conservatory of Music (pages 200-226).

p.e.—Teachers' Course in Physical Education in the College of Arts and Sciences (pages 35-88).

m.—Masters' degree, earned (pages 227-245).

The following letters are used to indicate the department in which the degree was earned: "m" for the College of Arts and Sciences, "t.m." or "s.t.m." for the Graduate School of Theology, and "c.m." for the Conservatory of Music.

h.—Honorary (pages 246-252).

h.w.m.—Honorary War Member.

Married women are entered in this index both under maiden names and also under married names.

The figures in this index refer to first graduation; no effort has been made to show the other degrees or other graduations of the person concerned; this information can be secured by turning to the complete entry to be found in Part III of this book (pages 1-253).
